

EXPERIENCED CONSULTANTS

While we have high expectations for you to succeed, we have a relaxed, supportive environment that supports our consultants to develop and reach their career goals.

Traditionally, recruitment is highly competitive and involves long hours, but we believe it should be fun and this is what makes working at SODA different.

We're looking for those that would fit our optimistic culture of working hard and playing hard.

We are a diverse group, and our consultants specialise in digital media markets (i.e. User Experience, Technical, Marketing, Creative) while staying abreast of all the various tech markets.

At SODA we want people who are smart enough to come up with new ideas and crazy enough to think they might just work.
